New Year, New Logo!

Education Department

The Education Department has been developing a new logo representing our mission statement. Three words come to mind when we think of our department - Educate, Elevate, and Encourage—specifically for students and lifelong learners of all ages. We provide services not only to tribal members but also to community members who participate in our events and programs. The logo incorporates a color scheme and design variation that resonates with education. To us, education means learning from our past to better prepare for the future. The sun layers depicted at the bottom of the circular background represent the progressive steps necessary to achieve our goals. Each layer signifies a different stage of education, illustrating the journey of learning and growth that builds upon itself as we strive for success. The top of the background circle represents life's new horizons. Every day is an opportunity to learn something new!

Walker River Tribal Library Program

The Education Department is moving forward with the Walker River Tribal Library program. The Tribal Library program will expand its capacity through the Education Department staff to highlight areas of academic and career advancement, life-readiness skills, critical thinking skills, and strengthen community engagement practices. Kylie Harry, the Communal Library Specialist, will devise community-based and culturally based knowledge and skills workshops that promote educational, and career components available for the community. Look for her upcoming events!

The library is populated with over 50 books published by Native authors and Indigenous-based cultural contents. We are receiving a donation of shelving from the UNR Library and organizing a small quiet space for studying and reading. We will soon have a check-in and out process in place. Please be patient with us as we prepare to open this space to the community.
